

A photograph showing two identical black, circular metal frames with three spokes, lying on a light-colored wooden desk. The frames appear to be made of thin metal tubing. Each frame has a central hub with three spokes extending to the outer rim. The frames are positioned side-by-side. In the background, the lower portion of a black computer keyboard is visible, showing keys like 'Enter', 'Ctrl', and 'Alt'. The desk surface is made of light-colored wood planks.
